

EAC Program 3

Sunday • November 13, 2011 • 11 - 4 pm

San Diego Art Tour

An invitation-only to a limited number of guest to view the collection of a prominent collector and attend the inaugural opening of Melanesian art from the Valerie Franklin Collection at the San Diego Museum of Art

11- 1 pm Visit the specially-designed home of Ed and Mina Smith's with its tropical landscaping, architectural details, and renowned collection of pre-Columbian, Oceanic, and Native American art, a prime example of artistic synergy where the art and its setting are finely matched. Much of their vast collection now resides at the SDMA. After the house tour, join us for a light buffet lunch and meet collectors from throughout the area.

1 - 3 pm Visit nearby the San Diego Museum of Art where the Art of Southeast Africa is on display, an exhibit culled from the 900 piece Sana Art Foundation bequeathed to the museum by the Smiths. Additionally, the newly opened Mexican Modern Painting from the Andres Blaisten Collection features 80 paintings, including well-known painters Maria Izquierdo, Diego Rivera, David Siqueiros, Rufino Tamayo, and newer names like Alfonso Michel, Federico Cantu, and Angel Zarraga.

3 - 4 pm Opening of Pacific Horizons: Melanesian Art from the Valerie Franklin Collection. Curator Dr. Teri Sowell will lead the group through this exquisite exhibit that focuses on 21 superb objects from New Guinea and the islands of New Ireland, Vanuatu and New Britain. Sculptures, human figures, masks, drum and platter, canoe prow ornament and paddle are arranged to introduce the art and culture of this little known and least understood but dynamic region.

RSVP by November 5 to bwblackmun@earthlink.net Space Limited.

We urge you to rsvp immediately to guarantee one of the 45 spaces available.

EAC Program 3

Sunday • November 13, 2011 • 11 - 4 pm

San Diego Art Tour

An invitation-only to a limited number of guest to view the collection of a prominent collector and attend the inaugural opening of Melanesian art from the Valerie Franklin Collection at the San Diego Museum of Art

11- 1 pm Visit the specially-designed home of Ed and Mina Smith's with its tropical landscaping, architectural details, and renowned collection of pre-Columbian, Oceanic, and Native American art, a prime example of artistic synergy where the art and its setting are finely matched. Much of their vast collection now resides at the SDMA. After the house tour, join us for a light buffet lunch and meet collectors from throughout the area.

1 - 3 pm Visit nearby the San Diego Museum of Art where the Art of Southeast Africa is on display, an exhibit culled from the 900 piece Sana Art Foundation bequeathed to the museum by the Smiths. Additionally, the newly opened Mexican Modern Painting from the Andres Blaisten Collection features 80 paintings, including well-known painters Maria Izquierdo, Diego Rivera, David Siqueiros, Rufino Tamayo, and newer names like Alfonso Michel, Federico Cantu, and Angel Zarraga.

3 - 4 pm Opening of Pacific Horizons: Melanesian Art from the Valerie Franklin Collection. Curator Dr. Teri Sowell will lead the group through this exquisite exhibit that focuses on 21 superb objects from New Guinea and the islands of New Ireland, Vanuatu and New Britain. Sculptures, human figures, masks, drum and platter, canoe prow ornament and paddle are arranged to introduce the art and culture of this little known and least understood but dynamic region.

RSVP by November 5 to bwblackmun@earthlink.net Space Limited.

We urge you to rsvp immediately to guarantee one of the 45 spaces available.